New Life: Vital and Growing Ethnic Faith Communities

A Program of the Commission on Ethnic Ministries

Pacific Northwest Conference

United Methodist Church

What is it?

New Life, a program of the Pacific Northwest Conference Commission on Ethnic Ministries, provides financial support to racial/ethnic faith communities (faith communities of color) and linguistic faith communities (first language other than English) that are developing or perfecting disciple-making systems that link intentionally to ministries of mercy and justice.

Why offer such a program?

Making disciples of Jesus Christ for the transformation of the world is the mission of The United Methodist Church globally.<sup>1</sup>

Through study, the Pacific Northwest Conference is emphasizing two aspect of ministry to fulfill the mission of the church:

- Deeper commitment to a life in Christ through intentional and systematic spiritual formation (disciple-making systems)
- Faith in action locally resulting from spiritual development of members and constituents (mission-field engagement)

Though racial/ethnic and linguistic faith communities tend to be evangelical in nature, intentional work on linking evangelism to ministries of mercy and justice may propel these faith communities into greater growth and vitality.

What will the program accomplish?

- Increased commitment of members and constituents to Christian discipleship
- Deepened sense of calling among the laity for the justice and mercy ministry in the local community
- Increased connection outside of the church walls with people who need help and healing
- Transformation of lives through connection with God and neighbor

What support is offered?

Successful applicants will receive up to $5000 for costs associated with the approved program or project. The program or project will be completed between April 2015 and March 2016.

For example, in a densely populated urban area, the mission field may be a 1-mile radius around the local faith community; in a rural area, the mission field may encompass a 20, 30 or 40-mile radius. In other cases, the mission field may be a particular ethnic, cultural or linguistic group.
